

PLANVIEW PRISMS® ENABLEMENT SOLUTIONS VIRTUAL CLASSROOM

Expertise and Experience

Planview has been successfully enabling customers to use our products for more than 20 years, offering a level of best in class training and guidance that customers need to meet their business objectives. The right training is crucial to maximizing an organization's investment in Planview Enterprise and other Planview products. But not all customers have the same needs or requirements.

It was with this flexibility in mind that we developed both formal and informal types of training within Planview PRISMS® enablement solutions. Planview informal training includes Planview Best Practices, On Demand and Customized E-Learning, and PlanviewPRISMS.com, our customer portal. Formal training options include Onsite Classroom, Train the Trainer, and Virtual Classroom.

Effective Learning – Less Cost

Using a role-based, process-centric approach to drive effective usage and provide measurable results, Virtual Classroom provides valuable and cost-effective learning.

Featuring a dynamic, hands-on curriculum taught by highly skilled and experienced trainers, Virtual Classroom offers rapid customization and process integration that teaches participants not only how to use the software, but how to use it to achieve their organization's goals. And, without the time and expense of travel, Virtual Classroom is an ideal option for many Planview customers, especially those with geographically dispersed users.

All the Benefits of an Onsite Classroom

Combining the personal instruction and team dynamics found in a traditional classroom setting with the convenience and cost savings of an online training format, Virtual Classroom is the best of both worlds. Built from the ground up as an interactive classroom, not just a web meeting tool, Virtual Classroom leverages interactive features including best-practice instructional methods, examples, graphics, and practice exercises that promote effective learning. Participants get the training they need when they need it while still having interaction with instructors and other students in real-time.

The Virtual Classroom experience features an instructor using a variety of interactive tools, including a virtual lab environment where the trainer is able to directly interact with a student through their individual screen as needed – just as if they were in the same room. Various tools are used to facilitate participant involvement. For large groups, polling or direct messaging provide an opportunity for everyone to actively participate in the discussion. To enable everyone to reference and engage with all responses, participants can write answers on a “whiteboard.” Breakout areas for small group discussions and projects offer the proven learning benefits of collaborative work.

Advantages of Virtual Classroom

In addition to being an effective learning environment, Virtual Classroom offers other advantages. First, it's economical. You don't have to incur the costs associated with sending employees from various global sites to a single location to meet with a trainer.

There are also savings associated with time lost in day-to-day work when people are in all-day training sessions or traveling. Virtual Classroom training occurs in small increments – usually 2 -hour increments. This gives participants an opportunity to attend training without missing a full day of work. It also provides opportunities for students to begin applying what they've learned, thereby enhancing job-related knowledge and skills.

Expanding Virtual Options

Effective distance learning is a matter of leveraging online visual, auditory, and interactive features in ways that promote learning. Virtual Classroom does just that, while reducing the costs and providing a broader reach than the traditional classroom setting.
